

Murals by Louis Schanker and Abraham Lishinsky in the Medical and Public Health Building at the New York World's Fair, 1939 May 4

Physical Details: photographic print: 1 item: b&w; 21 x 25 cm.

Creator: David Robbins, photographer

Description: Interior of the building, both murals are on walls which descend halfway from the ceiling, Schanker's in front and Lishinsky's one behind. An exhibit on pneumonia is also visible.

Note on verso identifies the photographer as "Robbins", working for the Federal Art Project, W.P.A., Photographic Division.

Forms part of: Federal Art Project, Photographic Division collection circa 1920-1965, bulk 1935-1942

Citation: Murals by Louis Schanker and Abraham Lishinsky in the Medical and Public Health Building at the New York World's Fair, 1939 May 4 / David Robbins, photographer. Federal Art Project, Photographic Division collection, Archives of American Art, Smithsonian Institution.

Request a copy of this image

Digital ID: 11540

View all Image Gallery items from the Federal Art Project, Photographic Division collection

View Larger Image